Christmas Sale New, Slightly Used Used Pianos Player-Pianos

On December 15 we start a special sale ofall the PIANOS and PLAYER - PIANOS on our floor.

Two carloads of new Pianos and Plaver-Pianos direct from the tactory.

We have just received two carloads of new Pianos and Player-Pianos from our factories, and are placing these, with our stock on hand, on sale at this time. Our whole stock has been especially selected for this occasion, which we are going to make an event in the history of Washington piano selling.

Player - Pianos Our Specialty.

We have beyond question the finest line of Player-Pianos on display in the city. Before taking on a Player-Piano department we spent five years in investigating the relative merits of players, and finally decided that the Walter Cook Elected President of American Architects.

GLENN BROWN RE-ELECTED Washingtonian Continued in Office

as Secretary-Treasurer.

GOLD MEDAL FOR MR. POST

Honored for His Half Century of Distinguished Service in Architecture.

Walter Cook of New York this afternoon was elected without opposition president of the American Institute of Architects for the ensuing year. Glenn Brown of Washington was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The selection of a place for the 1912 convention of the institute was left to the board of directors, which will convene in

Although two sessions were scheduled for today, the business of the convention was finished shortly past noon. Prior to the announcement of the result of the election, which was made at 2 o'clock, the delegates went into executive session for the purpose of discussing matters relating to competitions, Closes With Banquet.

Tonight the forty-fifth annual convention of the institute, which has been in session since Tuesday, will pass into history with a banquet to be given at the New Willard Hotel. Practically all of the more than one hundred delegates who have been in attendance have remained over for this event.

The speakers at the banquet will include Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, on "The Relation of the Institute to Washington City"; Representative J. L. Slayden of Texas, on "The Government's Relation to Art"; Representative W. Kent of California, on "The Preservation of Natural Scenery," and Maj. W. V. Judson, Engineer Commissioner of the District of Columbia, on "The Future Development of Washington

City-Planning Resolution.

Designed to bring about co-ordination in city planning, the convention this morning adopted a resolution, presented by Carlf F. Gould of Seattle, Wash., directing the committee on town planning pians for municipal improvement which are under consideration by various cities in the United States. It will be the duty of the committee to report from time to time to the board of directors, so that the board may recommend or discourage the adoption of any of the plans and cooperate as it sees fit with the various mumeipalities having them under considera-

The convention this morning also showed its approval of the institute's competition code as it stands by refusing to authorize the board of directors to consider a proposal made by the New York chapter which would give local subcommittees more latitude in applying the provisions of the code in competitions dealing with work that is purely of a President Taft Thanked.

Resolutions were adopted conveying the appreciation of the institute to President Taft, Ambassador Jusserand and Dr. Charles D. Walcott for their participation in the ceremonies held last night, at which a gold medal was conferred upon George B. Post of New York.

The convention passed a resolution ex-pressing regret over the death of Honore Daumet of Paris, France, who was an nonorary member of the institute.

The papers of H. B. Wheelock, on "Licensing Architects," and Lloyd Warren, on 'Phases of Architectural Educa-tion," which were scheduled for this atternoon, were read this morning.

Distinguished Persons Present.

More than 600 persons, including representatives of the cabinet, the Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps, Congress and the scientific and social life of Washington, last night, in the auditorium of the New National Museum, witnessed the presentation by the institute of the gold medal to George B. Post of New York, for fifty years of distinguished service

President Taft, Ambassador Jusserand and Dr. Charles C. Walcott paid tribute to the work of Mr. Post and the services he has conferred upon humanity. At the conclusion of the addresses the repient of the unusual honor, which is onferred every three years by the oranization, was presented with the medal by Irving K. Pond, president of the in-stitute, who presided. Mr. Post re-sponded briefly, but in a voice vibrant with emotion. He said:

"It is fortunate I have been told I need not deliver a formal address, for it would have been impossible in the preparation of a speech to have found words which adequately express my appreciation of the honor done me. This medal always will be guarded as a most precious treasure, and its memory will be enhanced by the memory of this presentation.' Prior to the presentation ceremonies a
